Value Enhancer

While the name Fashion TV raises a sense of immense nostalgia, the brand value of the company has always been on its highest peak. The idea revolving around Outlet Malls is surely not a new one when it comes to the international market, but with its opening in India will surely create the right attention and attract luxury retailers and customers to its venue. Fashion TV aims to be a part of this array with its own units ranging from FTV Cafe, Salon, Dining or even Lounge. This not only allows the developers to lease out possible areas but also increases brand value and recognition.

This newfound and tested concept is a short-term change that helps create long-term benefit to equity holders as well as affects the brand standing in the International industry.

When it comes to the main aspects of brand value FTV aces it by ticking all the right boxes that include convenience, branding, quality, design, and a unique selling point, that focuses on ultimate customer satisfaction and luxury services that surpasses no other.

Philosophy

Vision

To transform India as a weight-loss and weight management tried and true space in the world and help out our clientele in need of a magic bullet.

Mission

To present our clientele with 'a sense of look good, feel good discernment', with the help of highly trained professional and topmost technology.

Aim

FashionTV aims to create India's most prominent weight management vertical, that eventually emerges as the touchstone in the global industry.

Value Enhancing Industry in India

The reach of fashion and luxury services has been on a constant hike and while the demand and supply chain for more fashion products has been kept up with since years, is seeing more and better ways to enhance this experience for its consumers.

In India, the overall fashion market demand is expected to cross 300 Billion $ by 2030, while Fashion TV India contributes around 14.2M$ currently. This is expected to grow in the coming years giving a boost to the company's market standing as well as the Fashion and F&B industry.

The outlet shopping market is only estimated to succumb to its own numbers in the coming years, with the influence of the newest generation and their exposure to the luxury market. The exposure and brand value of Fashion TV is expected to rise with the rise in F&B outlets across the array.

Value Addition

The importance of an estate in the market holds a certain value as per the Square Feet per area, but with FTV your project holds a higher value as compared to other architecture in the city. Developers benefit from an additional hike of value, hereby increasing their overall competency and value in the market.

FTV Value addition stands to be a strong USP, enabling higher returns and importance among other real estate agents and projects taken upon. As per our records, you can view our Value Addition of 20% in our existing projects provided in comparison to other existing developments.
